4. Write a list of 100 people

These are people with whom you already have a relationship. This is an important group because these contacts form the foundation of your business and research has shown that you will find your strongest leaders within your current circle of influence. The memory jogger will help you remember more people.

Support is a key ingredient to your overall success. There are people who are dedicated to helping you succeed in your new business. Once you have completed the 4 items above, call you sponsor immediately and ask them to introduce you to your Upline Success Team.
